Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 12 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Hard frost overnight. Rain, sleet and snow arriving through Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cold, crisp and clear into the evening, with a widespread hard frost, locally severe near snowfields. Staying dry overnight with light winds throughout, although gradually becoming cloudier from the west towards daybreak. Minimum temperature -7 deg C (19 deg F).

Wednesday:
Starting fine and frosty. Becoming cloudier through the morning, with sleet, snow and perhaps freezing rain spreading eastwards, particularly affecting higher ground, and likely leading to icy surfaces more generally. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Wintry conditions ending Wednesday gradually easing through Thursday, leaving Friday drier but cold, with a risk of freezing fog forming in light winds. Further rain and snow likely into Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.